Set $25,000 Library Goal

With a one hundred per cent attendance, the committee that is to set up the machinery for a drive for funds for a new building for the Crawford County Library held a meeting at the Grayling High School Monday evening.

After due consideration, a goal of $25,000 was set to be used with what funds are already on hand to build the new structure. All township clerks and the City of Grayling will be contacted to obtain a list of registered voters in order that a calling list may be made up. The officials will also be asked to designate a number of civic-minded citizens in each of their areas to serve as "key" people during the drive which will be held later this year.

It is hoped that these "key" people will be able to recruit more workers in each area of the county so that during the drive no one is overlooked or not called upon. The committee is scheduled to meet again on Monday, April 9, at the High School at 7:30 p. m. to work further on the drive and the many details involved.

RADKA REPORTS
ON CON-CON

The Judicial Article completed round one and the section on the Supreme Court which had been debated and passed over was finally adopted. There was little change from the 1908 Constitution structure and election procedure
except providing for nine justices.
I predict the section will be amended considerably on the second reading. A majority of the Republicans seem to prefer a district and purely non-partisan nomination and election of Justices; the minority party prefers the present system, the minority members of the Republican party
are divided between various plans of appointment of justices. I prefer and support the district plan.

The Friday, 16 March session crumbled and it was a dramatic session rather than deliberative.
The minority party delegates responded to a metropolitan newspaper headline and article which reported that the Republican delegates had agreed on a package deal on the major issue of the Constitution by requesting a recess to caucus and then returned to the Convention and moved for adjournment for the weekend. Several moves to adjourn failed and requests by delegates to be excused were objected to. The reasons were that to allow adjournment
for excuse would be to agree that the reported package deal left nothing for all of the delegates to decide.

The so-called "package" was discussed in Republican caucuses on several occasions. I have reported on caucus or party meetings before and both parties hold caucuses regularly. No Republican is bound by the majority opinion of the caucus, and on most issues, the accomplishments are an expression of views in the hope that time can be saved and deliberations of the full Convention expedited. The Republican caucs spends most of the time trying to get some semblance of understanding between the various viewpoints of the Republicans. On one issue, the delegates may be divided between the farm and city viewpoint; on another, the professional and the layman; on another, the political theorist and the practical politician.

The so-called package considered problems of finance and taxation, specifically in part the 15
mill tax limitation and earmarking of funds; the executive branch and specifically the appointment
and/or election of the administrative officials; and reapportionment. The so-called "deal" was a general understanding and ac-compliance by several delegates of the Legislative Organization Committee Report rather than insisting on the strict population basis for election to the house as was originally included in the package. George Torney and others were convinced that the committee recommendation was sound and could be justified in any part of the State. The issue was that several of several Administrative Board members if there was support for the committee's reapportionment proposal.

There was a general understanding in the Republican caucus but there was no specific agreement to any specific proposal. You can be assured that the truth of this statement will be revealed when the Republican delegates debate
the various portions on these matters on the floor. There is no solid unanimity among the Republican delegates and when you can report some common understanding, this strong understanding.
The Constitution will still be written by all 144 delegates. Incidentally, the action taken by the Democrats last Friday was not a solid front party action. Many Democratic delegates were obviously disturbed.

We outstate Michigan Republicans have been referred to as the
"arm bloc", "Courtroom Gang",
"Old Guard", "Hardheads" and
"Conservatives". We are loosely organized and we do meet regularly and discuss our mutual problems, as do other groups who have mutual problems. We adequately represent you, we must do this.

I regret the Friday action because the dramatic events designed to point out the political party
division of the Constitutional Convention delegates will tend to solidify the party lines rather than soften them.

In The Framework Of Freedom . . .

In reference to space communications, the President recently said that throughout the history of this country "national communication systems have been privately-owned," and that studies have convinced him that in this field "national objectives" can best be achieved "in the framework of a privately-owned corporation, properly chartered by Congress."

A similar conclusion should hold true for any commercial activity. By its very nature, government is not a producer. In the name of the national welfare or defense, it can draw on the initiative and the productive capacity of private citizens. But the main responsibility for growth must begin with private citizens and private enterprise. In a larger sense, even international relations, and such questions as war or peace, ultimately depend not on governments but on understanding and commerce between peoples of different nations.

A generation ago, no one could have foreseen the impact of the trail-blazing efforts of a handful of pioneers who staked lives and fortunes on dreams of air transportation. Yet, today, international air transportation is a mighty new force in commerce and human relations. The people of our 49th state, Alaska, know this perhaps better than most.

A few weeks ago, Pan American Airways brought the heart of scenic Alaska to within two hours of her sister states to the south when it inaugurated scheduled jet air service between Seattle and Juneau. The new service is the result of 30 years of effort. It is merely another logical event in a civilization of free men — an event that will bring enjoyment to thousands of tourists, and closer economic ties to Alaska.

The big problem is to see that this kind of civilization continues.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

March 30, 1939

The members of the Kiwanis Club met at Horseshoe Lake Wednesday evening, instead of noon, the regular hour. Having had a sample of Mr. and Mrs. Worthey's chicken dinner, they were glad to partake there again. A good dinner and a lot of fun was had by all. Awaiting the departure of the Kiwanians was a group of about 30 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Worthey, coming to help celebrate their 24th wedding anniversary. The Kiwanians couldn't resist having a part in the event when they sang "Here Comes The Bride," while the gracious hostess did the natural thing by smiling through her blushes. Felicitations were extended to this fine couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Creque, Jr., and son Richard of Flint were in Grayling Saturday on business, and incidentally called on friends.

John and Arthur Gorman, brothers of Maurice Gorman, arrived unexpectedly Wednesday from Portland, Maine, where they have been for the past year. They are on their way to their home in East Jordan.

The house owned by Oscar Hanson next door to the property he occupies is being razed. It is one of the old landmarks of Grayling and at one time was the home of Mrs. Hanson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Some forty years ago it was the home of Dr. Woodworth.

Max Ferguson, attending Bay City Business College, spent the weekend visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson.

Miss Virginia and Kermit Charlton of C. S. T. C. Mt. Pleasant, are spending the Easter vacation visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Charron.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McDermid and four children of Flint spent Sunday visiting at the Leland Smock home. Frederic was the former's old home and the gentlemen were schoolmates there.

Miss Pauline Entsminger, who has been attending C. S. T. C. Mt. Pleasant, arrived home Friday and has accepted a position as bookkeeper at the Michigan Public Service Company office.

One has only to drive on highway M-93, leading to the military reservation, to see great groups of deer. The writer has frequently seen anywhere up to 30 deer within a five mile trip, but they seem to be more plentiful this year than ever before. Last week, Friday at about 6 p. m. we had just passed the winter sports park when we began to see groups of deer.

Continuing on to the Colien landing, we counted over 100. There were so many that the count became confusing and we had to give it up. Beyond Colien's as far as the rifle range we saw no more deer. On our return trip, there seemed to be more deer than we encountered before. Not far from the detour highway at the winter park there was a herd of at least 50 deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Barber of Frederic were made the proud parents of a son, born to them on Sunday, March 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Fuller and children of Marshall visited Mrs. Fuller's sister, Mrs. Paul Feldhauser, from Friday until Monday.

Dawson's Drug Store is being nicely repainted on the inside and undergoing a general spring housecleaning. Olson's Shoe Store has received a coat of white paint on the inside, improving its appearance very much.

John Bruun arrived home Monday from a six week visit abroad. He visited his mother in Denmark. He was also in France, Germany and England. He reports the war situation in these countries and Russia as serious, and there is much apprehension as to what Hitler may do next.

Owing to the falling of part of the plaster from the ceiling at the Danish Lutheran Church, school and church services are being held in the Danebod Hall, until the ceiling is repaired.

Mrs. John Knecht attended the funeral of an old friend Mrs. Dora Peacock, at Winn, Mich. Mrs. Peacock was formerly Dora Leightner, and she and her parents were among the early settlers in the down river district. The Peacock family resided at what has been known since as the Peacock Place. The deceased was 83 years old and left Grayling in 1898.

Herbert Feldhauser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Feldhauser, will be the new proprietor of the Earl Nelson Gas station on US-27 beginning April 1st. Herbert is a graduate of Grayling High School of the class of 1937 and is an ambitious young fellow, and we are confident he will make a success in this new undertaking.

Mrs. Eva Wingard returned on Tuesday from Rome, her daughter Mrs. A. J. Trudeau driving down to accompany her. Mrs. Wingard reports a very pleasant sojourn in Florida, where she spent the month of February. She saw a lot of country as she drove up both coasts and crossed the country three times.

Mrs. Ernest Borchers entertained at two tables of bridge Friday afternoon. Mrs. Eugene Papendick and Mrs. George Granger, carrying off the scoring honors. The hostess served a delicious lunch.

Mrs. Vera Gilson will be returning to the last of the week to Sunfield, Mich., from Bradenton, Fla., where she has been spending the winter months. She hopes March doesn't hang over into April as she has been enjoying a temperature around 80 degrees. She says she saw the Tigers play in their practice game with the Boston Bees and that Tebbetts caught a fine game.

Mrs. Albert Kras, with her daughter, Miss Hattie, left last week for Saginaw to visit her daughter, Mrs. M. B. Weinberg and family.

Miss Zina Smith arrived Saturday from Detroit on account of the illness of her mother. While here she is a guest at the Chris Piehl home.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Chappel, on March 18th, a daughter.

A son was born to Editor and Mrs. D. E. Matheson of Roscommon on Saturday, March 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. George Larson and children and Mrs. Peter Madson left Wednesday for Detroit to visit relatives and friends for a couple of weeks.

A jolly crowd met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orson Corwin on Monday night to help them celebrate their fifteenth wedding anniversary. A beautiful water set was presented to the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Smith of West Branch spent a few days with the latter's mother, Mrs. Bills, at the Bills cottage.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Barber of Frederic, an 8 pound daughter.

On Saturday evening about thirty guests met at the home of Mrs. Guy Slade to enjoy an evening in honor of Miss Moehlmann. The mailbox which was standing near the entrance was opened at the close of a perfectly arranged

Letters To The Editor — Grayling, Mich. March 23, 1962

Crawford Co. Avalanche Dear Sir:

Hats off to the Grayling Sportsman Club for their Project of feeding the deer, it's a wonderful sight to see the deer being fed along the road by the Lake. We didn't enjoy our dinner that night just seeing that deer, the next day we took an ax and snow shoes, went back but the Sportsman Club had started to feed them. I wonder how many of us can actually say we have ever been hungry and no food, very few I'm sure.

We have a cabin on Manistee river, we have fed deer since the first big snow. We put snow shoes on and go in the swamps and cut cedar, it's hard work, but when we see the deer looking so good it's worth it. Mr. and Mrs. Vere Carre's buy and feed them at their place, we are neighbors. It's so much better to put snow shoes on, cut cedar and keep the deer alive, rather than put them on and go in the swamp to count the dead ones. So again we say Hats off to the Sportsman Club and everyone else that feed the deer.

Yours truly, Mr. & Mrs. Corden Crosby Rte. 1, Grayling, Mich.

It happened 100 YEARS ago — The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862. The same year that Taylor youngsters saw a day come up to the Claude Halstead home and peer in the picture window for a time, then walk away.

Wednesday morning some of the Taylor youngsters saw a day come up to the Claude Halstead home and peer in the picture window for a time, then walk away.

For then as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment to our state. The Brewing Industry pays more than 16 million dollars in taxes to Michigan each year, money that helps support our parks, hospitals and schools.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Although Legal Since 1887, Savings And Loans Grown In Last Decade
MICHIGAN HAS HAD A SAVINGS AND LOAN LAW ON ITS BOOKS SINCE 1887 although the popularity of this type of banking institution has only been publicly noted in the last decade or so.
 Growth of savings and loan associations in the state over the last six years, for example, has amounted to more than $367 million, state officials report.
 Today there are 35 associations which report total assets of more than $656 million. The assets report for the fiscal year which ended June 30 noted an increase of $72 million over the previous year, officials said.
 "These increases have occurred despite unsteady economic conditions in Michigan during the life of the savings and loan system," said Banking Commissioner Charles D. Slay.

Savings and loan associations have been the object of proposed legislation in the past several years to bring the reserve requirements and tax and branch office regulations into line with those imposed on commercial banks.
 The associations differ from banks in that they are mutually owned by "savings shareholders," said Slay.
 "This type of financial institution, with 105 offices throughout the state, is performing an increasingly important dual function to the public by providing safe and convenient savings and investment plans and long-term, monthly payment home loans," said the commissioner.

JOB PROSPECTS FOR THE June college graduate are good, according to the Michigan Education Association.
 On the average, June graduates will find a $485 monthly wage awaiting him at his first job. This represents an increase, on the average, of $10 a month over last year, the association said.
 Indications are the high salaries will range around $545 for engineers and the low will be $448 a month for business trainees.

MICHIGAN IS EXPECTED TO be among the first states in the nation to put into effect President Kennedy's recommendation for a mass immunization program to combat four of the worst childhood diseases: polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.
 In production as the department currently is, a new three-in-one antigen to be blended with bulk Salk polio vaccine. This is expected to be ready for free distribution throughout the state by late this year, said Health Commissioner Albert E. Howells.
 Plans call for producing enough of the quadruple antigen to immunize the estimated 200,000 children who are born or move into Michigan annually.

State law requires certain standards of safe content for some fire extinguishers, but the law does not cover single-family dwellings. The law leaves the homeowner on his own, Kelley said.
 The Attorney General's advice to prospective purchasers of extinguishing equipment is to check the sales claims before the purchase is made.
 "If in doubt, ask the State Health Department to analyze the extinguisher for safety of content," Kelley said.

Between The Bookends
DAUGHTER OF SILENCE By Morris L. West
 A new novel by the author of The Devil's Advocate, whose setting is the same, contemporary Italy.
 The focal point of the novel is the trial of a young woman on a charge of murder and her defense by a fledgling lawyer. The trial is conducted under the classic Latin method of inquisition and its revelations open up sixteen years of sinister history. For the young lawyer, it is a desperate gamble to break the tyranny of a brilliant father-in-law and establish himself in the midst of a wife who has rejected him.
 "High Vengeance is the daughter of deep silence." The story unfolds its dramas on many levels—in the tense clashes of the court and in the troubled intimacies of a summer villa near Siena, and always against the haunted landscape of Tuscany.
 In essence, Daughter of Silence is an explanation of the meaning of the law: whether it be an instrument of public order or an instrument of absolute justice. It is also a journey into the mazes of modern love—its dignities, its corruptions and its intricate intrigues in a land where historic passions erupt into dramas of tragic dimensions. This is a novel of power and impact by a craftsman of distinction.
 This book is available at the Crawford County Library.

A New Year - 1962
 This is the time of year when we should all add up our assets and count our blessings. Some of these are spelled "assets" and some are spelled "liabilities".
 F. C. Welsh The "assets", of course, keep a roof over our heads but the other "assets" of living in a free society and being able to seek happiness in our own way make life under that roof worthwhile.
 This is the time of year for pledges. We're going to play safe by sticking to the ones we've made throughout the year. That is, we promise to sell used cars as good as honest reconditioning can make them at the lowest possible price and to spare no effort to help you get the maximum satisfaction out of your new car.
 There are a few operators in our business who maintain that the honest approach in advertising doesn't pay. The only technique that works is to outsmart the public with gimmicks they say, and in so operating they encourage the public to attempt to outsmart the dealer. We're still going to go on disagreeing with that thinking.
 We'd like to thank our many customers for the confidence they have shown in us by buying their car from us and letting us service it. We'll continue to try to deserve that confidence.
 While some parts of our country may have temporary economic distress, the overall picture and future forecasts are very bright. We need only to work together to make them come true.
